

CHEDER CHESHEK

Your peek at how Chinuch and Cheshek go hand in hand

A Message from the Menahel

This פורים קטן we focused on flexibility and simcha.

Though they are an unlikely shidduch, they have everything to do with one another.

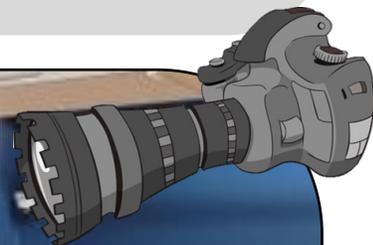

Probably the most common roadblocks to simcha is the trap of getting stuck on an expectation.

Being flexible with the way we think provides new pathways to simcha and a far higher quality of life.

Our 1st—5th grades all learned about this idea through an entertaining presentation about עיבור השנה and some of the interesting situations that can arise as a result.

Though our hearts went out to the Ima during שני בית who had to clean for Pesach twice after the סנהדרין announced a 2nd Adar, and to the Bar Mitzvah store owners who mysteriously had no business one month, as well as to the older twin who had his Bar Mitzvah 30 days after his brother, we also know that the only way for them to have simcha that אדר was to be flexible!

Points from the Principal

Talking homework?

This week we began our Right Word vocabulary program! After beginning our program with an assembly, a game, and a challenge we began to.... TALK! I loved hearing the boys use vocabulary words they are learning! I loved hearing the boys tell me about what they discussed during the 2-Minute Talk challenge! We are going to reach our Word-meter goal very, very quickly.

The ability to express oneself is so important... Let's keep the conversations going!

Have a wonderful Shabbos!

- Mrs. Gilden

בִּיגוֹן הַחֲדָשׁ - חֲדָשׁ אֲדָר א'

בָּרוּךְ הוּא אֱלֹהֵינוּ

שֶׁבָרָאנוּ לְכַבֹּדוֹ,

וְהִבְדִּילָנוּ מִן הַתּוֹעִים,

וְנָתַן לָנוּ תּוֹרַת אֱמֶת,

וְחַיֵּי עוֹלָם נִטְעַם בְּתוֹכָנוּ.

אֵלֵינוּ הוּא, גֵבֶנְטֵחַד

That created us for his כְּבוֹד.

And separated us from the confused

And gave us a תּוֹרָה of אֱלֹהִים.

And planted inside of us

הַיְוֵה that gives life forever.
