So Long, Farewell, Auf Wiedersehen, Adieu!

Dear Parents, Staff and Friends שיחיו,

Five years have come and gone since I joined the Cheder team in 2013. One of my most memorable and enjoyable tasks has been producing the many beautiful issues of B'Chadrei Chadrim. It has allowed you all to gain an insider's view of what takes place in and around our Cheder and Bais Yaakov and concurrently enabled me to take stock of our school's success.

I surely could not have produced even one, let alone all 65 issues without the talent, organization, devotion and dedication of my Cheder right hand, Mrs. Chaya Rena Kaplan שתח'. Every one of us in general, and me in particular, owe her a tremendous debt of gratitude. May ה' bentsh her together with all of you dear readers with שפע ברכה והצלחה.

I am sure that I will miss you all in the months and years ahead. יהי רצון שתשרה שכינה במעשה ידינו.

It has been a pleasure!

Sincerely,

Rabbi Yonah G. Lazar

Names, Not Numbers © Intergenerational Inspiration

The Young Israel of Passaic - Clifton was filled as Clifton Cheder premiered Names, Not Numbers, A Movie in the Making to the community at large. Produced by Mrs. Tova Fish- Rosenberg and Cheder parent and filmmaker Mr. Jarrod Hurwitz. Names, Not Numbers © is a unique interactive multi-media project teaching students the lessons of the Holocaust in a hands on fashion.

The Cheder's eighth graders were divided into groups whose job was to interview and digitally record the personal stories of three Holocaust survivors, touching on the individual's life before the war, as well as his experiences during and immediately following the Holocaust: Mr. Mark Schonwetter, Mr. Rene Slotkin and Harav Gershon Weiss. The boys learned the necessary skills and techniques to research, interview, videograph, etc., which became the basis for their 56 minute documentary film.

Tuesday evening's program was graced by Mr. Schonwetter and his family, Mr. Slotkin and Rav Chaim Yitzchok Weiss, Rosh Kollel of Yeshiva of Staten Island who represented his father. Each survivor was presented with a photo memento of himself and the group of boys who interviewed him. The talmidim themselves spoke of the great lessons in Emunah, positivity, endurance and the importance of family they gained from the great men they have gotten to know.

Mr. Slotkin showed the boys the number tattooed on his arm by the evil Nazis yemach shemam of 160961. He showed them how the digits add up to the sum of 23 – the perek in Tehillim where Dovid Hamelach writes, Gam ki elech b'gei tzalmoves lo e'erah ra, ki Atah imadi. When Mr. Slotkin turned his arm over, the number is read backwards. In that direction to the sum total equals 26, proving to all that Hashem was with him at every moment.

The multi month educational project was spearheaded by the Cheder's talented General Studies Principal Rabbi Yaacov Shalom, who very passionately addressed the many attendees and thanked all those who made this program possible. The Cheder's dean, Rabbi Yonah G. Lazar eloquently spoke about the power of Jewish tears; we cry for the future, not over the past. This intergenerational monumental undertaking linked our illustrious past with our promising future. Rabbi Lazar recommended the guests to take advantage of the heros they were in the presence of and ask them for personal brachos, as per the famed advice of the great Satmar Rov zt"l.

The Cheder hopes the student will add the lessons of the Names, Not Numbers project to the many, many enduring lessons they have learned throughout the years of their elementary school Chinuch at Clifton Cheder, where Chinuch and Chaishek truly go hand in hand.

Respecting Our Community; Keeping it Safe, Clean and Beautiful

By: Mrs. Aliza Bloom

Walking the halls of the Clifton Cheder you often hear interesting things going on in the classrooms.

One fine Spring day I heard Mrs. Goldberg's second grade class chanting "Recycle, Reduce, Reuse." I listened for a moment at the door as Mrs. Goldberg explained to the boys how long it takes for a plastic bottle to decompose into the earth and how much better it is for the environment to recycle them. The boys were convinced!

I pulled myself away from the door and continued walking downstairs. Midway down the hallway, I hear Mrs. Gutstein and Mr. Asarnow at the same time, in opposite classrooms, having lively discussions with their boys about the intricacies of governments and their responsibilities to the citizens.

An idea begins to formulate.

Mrs. Gilden had just sent the teachers a memo about her newest creation - a fair where classes would display what they had learned about different communities in the world. I run to her office and ask her if this would be a good time to give the students a hands on experience involving community service. We can teach the importance of taking care of the world Hashem had given us, while showing the Clifton community how much we care about our personal neighborhood. Mrs. Gilden loved the idea and the brainstorming began; everyone became involved.

Keeping Communities Safe:

First we invited Clifton City Councilman Ray Grabowski to address the 4th, 6th and 8th grade classes, who were learning about government. Mr. Grabowski explained how laws were formed in our community, and how even our own students could get involved. He was honest and detailed in his presentation. He even diplomatically handled a question by one of the boys about why the zoning of our new school building is taking so long. (He said it takes time to hear all the complaints and to give each side a fair hearing). Students learned about the importance of laws, as well as the different local jobs that keep us safe.

Keeping Communities Clean:

Next Mrs. Goldberg's second grade class launched a water bottle recycling campaign in the school. Blue bins were placed on each floor and the boys designed slogans and posters to hang in the hallways encouraging people to recycle. B"H we collected so many bottles! It really makes a difference!

Miss Gold's third grade class did the real dirty work going to the Athenia Steele Park in Clifton to clean up garbage. The boys were so excited to clean up! Perhaps it was the cool picker and handheld garbage bags which made it so much fun? Or was it seeing the interesting things people leave behind in the park like socks?

Respecting Our Community; Keeping it Safe, Clean and Beautiful

Keeping Communities Beautiful:

Miss. Rosensweig's first grade class tied up the project with a beautiful bow. The boys donated and planted flowers in Chelsea Park to help the Clifton Recreation Department make this park more festive and lively for the children that come to play in the nearby playground. Equipped with their own personal shovels and flowers, the boys went to work spreading the beauty all over the grounds.

At the Community Fair, our entire Cheder community was invited to involve themselves by giving thanks and giving back. Families wrote beautiful thank you letters to local neighborhood helpers, and planted apple seeds.

On behalf of the City of Clifton's Recreation Department, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the 3rd Grade Class from Clifton Chedar for assisting us in keeping our Athenia Sports Complex clean. As a product of your continued assistance, the quality of our Sports Complex is improving daily.

With your service, we had 10 young volunteers who exhibited a strong passion to learn more about community service and volunteering. The maintenance of the park was well planned and executed by all involved. This event's phenomenal success is a reflection of the ever-increasing dedication and enthusiasm you and the gentleman in your 3rd grade class demonstrate on a regular basis. Without your involvement and immense effort, this event would not have been possible.

I personally cannot thank you enough for all of the hard work Clifton Chedar has committed to this project and I assure you, it has certainly made a big difference in our city. Thank you again, and we look forward to working with you in the near future on many other City endeavors.

I Did It! I Graduated Kindergarten!

The Kindergarten graduation was a smashing success. Every seat was filled (no standing room either!) and all eyes were glued on twenty adorable performers. Singing songs from throughout the school year, the Kindergarteners sang their hearts out in unison. Motions accompanied each song, lending meaning to their songs and learning. Thank you to the incredible Morahs who put so much effort into the performance and the set-up of the classroom. The amount of caring, love and teaching that went into the morning was evident. Thank you to the Mitels for the delicious baked goods!

Siddurations & Celebrations

For thirty two precious youngsters, Monday, May 28th marked the day they crossed the threshold from preschoolers to Talmidim and Talmidos. The Cheder/Bais Yaakov Sidduration was celebrated with much pomp and ceremony in the hall of the Adas, with proud parents, grandparents and siblings joining in the simcha.

The Pre-1A year is a remarkable one, in that the children transition from little children to big children in their ten month stay. Students enter Pre-1A with a basic recognition of the Aleph-Bais letters, and commence the year with their very own Siddur, the proficiency to begin to daven from it, and an understanding of the gift that Tefilla is. The boys demonstrated that appreciation with their impressive Tehilim recitation. The Bais Yaakov girls prepared for their Sidduration by exploring Tefilla; thinking of what they would daven for, and interviewing others to hear what their parents, siblings and principals ask Hashem for. The girls got a range of answers; parents davening for their children to follow the Torah way; brothers davening for the Jewish people; sisters to be friends; principals, for students and teachers to be happy and successful. They got answers that were sweet, meaningful and poignant; sincere and serious; honest and heartfelt. The presentation focused on those who daven for them, and the things they can thank Hashem for. The interview responses opened the girls up to the many requests they can make from Hashem as privileged prayers.

The children were charming in their beautiful costumes and crowns, little people on a big stage, balloons bobbing in the background. The audience cheered them on and thoroughly enjoyed the moving performances. Refreshments were shared, Brachos were wished, and the children continued with their day. For us, watching them move on is a rite of passage. They've certainly earned their stripes, like the others before them, they've graduated with honors and received their coveted Siddurim. We prod them forward with our own Tefillos for them; we daven they should treasure their Siddurim every tomorrow the way they do today.

Special thanks to Rabbi and Mrs. Menachem Wiederman for sponsoring the boys' siddurim in memory of פייגא בת יוסף הלל ע"ה and משה אפרים ז"ל בן יהודה צבי הירש נ"י and to Rabbi and Mrs. Yonah G. Lazar for sponsoring the girls' siddurim in memory of Rabbi Lazar's mother, אסתר מלכה בת ר' שמואל ע"ה. May all the beautiful תפילות in the years to come serve as an עילוי לנשמתם.

Civil Talents

Mr. Asarnow's six grade class recently studied the Civil War during which many songs and poems were written. These are poems written about the Civil War by the students.

The Civil War

By: Yaakov Kushnir and Alex Wiederman

It started out at Bull Run
 And it looked like it would be fun,
 As more were killed
 Hundreds of people headed for the hills.
 A short war people thought it would be
 With the Union in a quick victory.
 But then when the Confederates won the battle of Bull Run
 Hundreds of people were proven wrong.
 Stonewall Jackson saved the day,
 He was on his horse like a "Stonewall" and it seemed like child's play.
 Even though the South won then,
 The Union won in the end.

The Civil War

By: Yoni Wilk, Yeshaya Orent and Benyamin Zarkhin

General Lee,
 May just be,
 The greatest man we will ever see,
 Unfortunately, he could not bring victory.
 "I would rather die a thousand deaths" said he,
 To meet Grant a shame it would be.
 To surrender his army,
 For the Union would be a party.

 To end the reign of slavery,
 Please sympathize with me,
 For the Black's freedom is key,
 I have been owning slaves since I was three,
 And now I have a little money,
 Many think this is funny.

A victim of the scorch earth policy,
 Which in theory,
 Was very deadly.

William T. Sherman's march to the sea,
 And now my friend Lee is in Union custody,
 Over 600,000 will die
 In this bloody war,
 Let's remember what they fought for.

Civil War Events

By: Meir Kagan, Menachem Compart and Naftali Shulman

Listen people, I'm giving some facts about the Civil War,
 Consider this a museum, and I am giving you a tour,
 This war lasted from 1861-1865,
 And 620,000 people lost their lives.

Brother to brother, father to son,
 Everybody was happy when it was done.

The main issue of the war turned out to be slavery,
 Everyday for African Americans were misery.

Before the Battle of Bull Run,
 Everyone thought the chances for the South winning 10-1.

At the Battle of Antietam, 25,000 were dead,
 It was the bloodiest battle in American history people said.

At the end of the war, Abraham Lincoln was shot dead,
 One shot from John Wilkes Booth to the head.

The Graduating Class of 5778 - 2018

With tremendous שבח והודאה to ה' Clifton Cheder celebrated the commencement exercises of the class of 5778/2018!

From the beautiful processional at the opening through the final goodbyes post מעריב, everyone was proud. Proud of the Cheder, proud of this class and proud of each individual talmid's accomplishments.

The evening began with Rabbi Seldowitz sharing his excitement in each talmid's עלי. As these talmidim were Rabbi Seldowitz's original 5th Cheder class, the Menahel expressed how well he knows their strengths and struggles and how proud he is of how far each boy has come. Rabbi Seldowitz told the talmidim that just as he knows they have a special place in his heart, he is certain he is in their hearts as well.

Next to the podium was our beloved and devoted 8th grade Rebbe, Rabbi Motti Koval. Rabbi Koval spoke about each and every talmid's individuality. Quotes from his warm sentiments follow:

Yaakov Davidovici: Your learning is alive and real, a קשא on the סוגיא is a real problem for you. Your sense of humor, lively debates and געשמאק in life add so much to our classroom.

Yaakov Feinsod: Your determination to write down every single word in every single subject we learned no matter how long it took you and how tedious it was, was a real חיזוק to me! Being the class' best athlete coupled with your great sportsmanship makes you the perfect class captain.

Pinny Kagan: Your devotion to coming to night סדר as well as your ever steady attendance made you an anchor of תורה in our class; the go to man that we were always able to count on! Your generous heart and caring personality makes you beloved by all your peers.

Yaakov Katina: You are a super motivated boy with a sincere passion for תורה ועבודת ה'. You are focused and determined with your head set on straight. I will miss your challenging קושיות and clarity of thought that you bring out in every סוגיא.

Shlomo Simcha Kovacs: You are very responsible, very reliable and extremely honest. All of these traits earn you lots of friends. Your radiance of חן allowed you to join our class towards the end of elementary school and socially still rise to the top.

Binyamin Mathias: You stand משכמו ולמעלה, as a boy who takes his learning seriously and really understands the סוגיא. In preparation for class, I first prepare the גמרא and then I prepare it again with you in mind. Your soft way with people, together with your exceptional מידות earned you so many friends.

Sage Settenbrino: Your sharp mind and great קושיות on the פרשה add so much enthusiasm to our class. You amaze us all with your ear for music, gift of art and cheerful, happy go lucky personality.

Dovid Shillingford: Your love of learning, with your constant effort to keep growing and taking on more חברותות is what makes you a true בן עלי'. Your maturity and easy going nature enabled you to join our class in 8th grade and still be from the most popular boys.

Avigdor Srulovich: Your determination and belief in yourself enabled you to accomplish so much in your learning this year. Your thoughtfulness, care and genuine concern for others make you the boy everyone wants to have around.

ואחרון אחרון חביב

10) Dovi Strimber: Last on the list but definitely not least. Your desire to really understand the גמרא and all the work you put in to get there is a true נחת to me. Your soft caring and sensitive side along with you being a real בעל מידות makes you a true role model for all your peers. As they say in our class "If you want to get something done give it to Dovi. He'll accomplish it, quietly, unassumingly and always with a smile."

Each talmid was presented with a special newly released story of the life and lessons of Harav

Michael Yehuda Lefkowitz ל"צ"ל, a giant מחנך and a giant Mentch for them to learn from.

The class were then represented by two of their own, Binyomin Mathias and Yaakov Katina. Binyomin thanked his Rebbeim and teachers for the excellent education they received and took special note of what they learned from each and every Rebbe, back to their starting days in Pre1A. Marking the culmination of their Cheder learning, the class were מסיים all of the משינות in סדר מועד. The סיום and הדרן was beautifully delivered by Yaakov Katina.

Before Rabbi Lazar had a chance to begin his charge to the graduates, the talmidim presented him with a special gift of thanks. The thank you was for his years of involvement in their חינוך and particularly for his in depth weekly שיעורים this year, learning ספר יונה in depth with the graduates. Both boys and their parents expressed how much the תלמידים gained from exploring this ספר from a whole new perspective.

In Rabbi Lazar's address he focused on not allowing ourselves to be satisfied with mediocrity, rather to aim higher and keep climbing until you have reached your goal. As the wisest of all men שלמה המלך teaches: "כל אשר תמצא בידך בכחך עשה". Do whatever is in your abilities to do. Hashem expects no more, but nor will He accept any less.

The final words of nachas came from General Studies principal, Rabbi Yaacov Shalom who had the honor of distributing the beautiful diplomas. Rabbi Shalom's message focused on the great effort the boys invested to earn these certificates and that not only are we proud; the talmidim too should and are proud as well.

In traditional Cheder style the refreshments were beautifully set up, thanks to Mrs. Strimber.

Thank you to Rabbi Kagan for all of the logistical details and to Mrs. Goldfarb for all the detailed skill invested into the invitations, programs and diplomas. Special thank you to the Mittel family for providing the cakes and cookies. יישר כחך to 6th grader Yaakov Aryeh Kushnir for providing the beautiful music for the evening. Most importantly, thank you to השי"ת for allowing our boys to reach this incredible milestone in their lives.

Mazel tov!

Our Bais Yaakov first graders published their first book, their own Autobiography.

The girls celebrated this trip through the Writer's Process with a cafe themed celebration, complete with songs, a dance, and each author reading aloud a selected piece. And of course, cookies and chocolate milk were enjoyed by all!

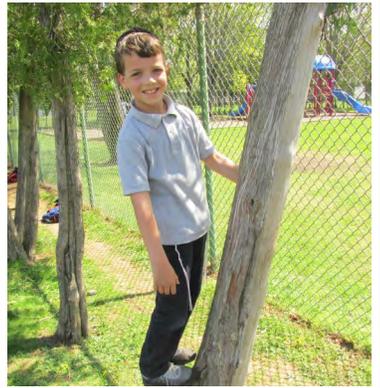

Mothers celebrated their daughter's accomplishment as they journeyed through the year, admiring all of their daughter's writing. Journals, portfolios, self portraits, and Me on the Map packets adorned the room as the girls celebrated themselves. Great job girls, we are so proud of you!

The Culmination of Community Curriculum

Where can you find published books to read, students in costume, crafts to make, treats to eat, games to play, and projects to see?

At the Clifton Cheder community fair!

Our boys in 1st-4th grade came together to culminate everything they had learned this year with a community wide fair.

Community is the focus of our spiraling social studies curriculum, with first graders learning about themselves and their own community, second grade learning about neighborhood helpers, third grade learning about communities around the world, and fourth grade learning about different states within our country.

Our fair was special, hosting something for everyone.

Each student had the opportunity to share a published book, one that went through the Writer's Process and deserved to be celebrated.

Classes offered samples of what was done in class during their community themed study. There was a measuring and self portrait making station with the first grade, costumes and projects to look okay with second grade, art and churros to make, mancala to play, and Japanese name writing to try in third grade, and various food samples and informative activities to take part in with the fourth grade State Fair.

But that's not all! Visitors got to see how students in the Clifton Cheder learned how to 'give back', with an exhibit set up about the community service we took part in. At that booth, guests wrote thank you letters to real community helpers, and planted an apple tree to limit waste.

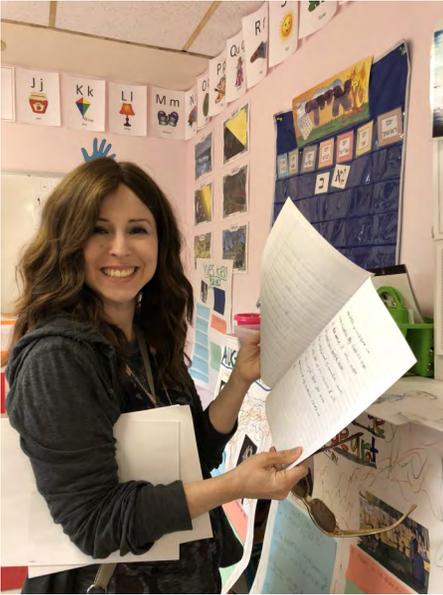

Visitors received passports to help guide them on their fair journey, and students stamped the passports when they were visited.

After prizes were awarded the those who visited the different exhibits, all were treated to Rita's ices, a neighborhood project donated by the Goldberg family in honor of our own very special Cheder community.

What a fair! Baruch Hashem a good time was had by all!

The Many Smiles of Clifton Cheder

An Evening in a Class of It's Own

ב"ה, with tremendous סייעתא דשמיא, a lot of work and joint efforts, the Cheder successfully celebrated its 12th Annual Dinner earlier this month.

Held in the BrightStone, Pas-saic's newest hall, the ambi-ance of the event was very special. Beginning with a deli-cious, beautifully layed out and very well attend-ed shmorgasboard until the yummy dessert late into the night, everyone seemed pleased.

The theme of the evening was music and thanks and both were woven into the program from start to finish.

The evening was opened by Cheder dinner chair-man, parent and board member, Mr. Shaul Feinsod, who used the "great Yanny or Laurel de-bate" to help eve-ryone see how much must go into a Rebbe, Morah or teacher making sure their lesson is "heard" by each unique member of their class in their own way.

The first of Cheder parent and film producer Mr. Jarrod Hur-witz's video masterpieces was then shown. Wow! Unbelieva-ble! Something really unique in the world of what sometimes can be boring school dinner films. This was anything but!

Fast moving, invigorating and keeping you glued from start to finish, 'Together Through Our Lens,' starred our own 6th grade students Meir Kagan and Yaakov Aryeh Kushnir as they (or at least that's how Jarrod made it look) produced the Cheder film. Be sure to log on to our website to watch it – along with your chil-dren again and again.

Rabbi Lazar then opened the formal program by repeating a thought he shared in his first Meet & Greet with the cheder parent body, back in 2013.

למדנו תמיד to teach us the importance of perfect balance using both right and left hands simultaneously. These represent love and struc-ture, or in Cheder terminology, חשק and חינוך. Citing a supreme example of some-one who has influenced our students with just that deli-cate balance, Rabbi Lazar paid tribute to our Bais Yaa-kov Supervisor, Mrs. Hadassah Svei with a beautiful silver parting gift expressing the Cheder's appreciation for her two years of devotion to Bais Yaakov of Clifton's success. The Cheder wishes Mrs. Svei כל דבר טוב שבעולם.

Next up was our parents of the year awardees Mr. Adam and Mrs. Chava Buckstein. Hav-ing been taken by the Cheder's unusual warmth, the Bucksteins decided to enroll their growing family into the Cheder. In their case, that included both parents who have been actively in-volved in lending their talents and expertise whenever and wherev-er possible. Mr. Buckstein serves on the Board and is very devoted to the Cheder's success. In addition to Cheder representatives, Mr. Bucksteins's award was also presented by his esteemed Rov, Rabbi Menachem Spira שליט"א. A JAHU Films video, interviewing the Bucksteins and their friends, allowed all those at the dinner to "get a feel" of what the Bucksteins are all about. No wonder the Cheder chose to honor them.

A very special element of this memorable evening was the music. Hartzigeh background songs began at the shmorgasboard with Reb Joey Newcomb on the guitar and Yair Shahak on the violin, quite a special talented pair. However, before the main course was served, the crowd was introduced to the new singing sensation, Yehuda Litke and his golden voice! Wow! What beauty, talent and hartz, all in one!

Mr. Hurwitz's third video zeroed in on some of the Chinch accomplishments of our dean, Rabbi Lazar. Cheder Rebbeim, Darchei Noam Rebbeim, Board members, Cheder parents, relatives, Mechanchim and even Rabbi Paysach Krohn, joined together on the film to pay tribute to the five years of נשמה that Rabbi Lazar has invested into making our school into what it is today.

In a very moving moment at the dinner Mr. Menachem Zarkhin, Clifton Cheder's chairman of the Board, announced that in Rabbi Lazar's honor, and to thank him for his years of around the clock devotion, the Cheder will be dedicating the entrance to the Cheder's new permanent home to the memory of Rabbi Lazar's parents, Rabbi and Mrs. Eli and Malki Lazar עליהם השלום. A special papercut from ארץ ישראל attesting to that future dedication was presented as a keepsake for the Lazar family. Special thanks to Mrs. Lara Gedzelman our "Israeli Cheder correspondent" together with Mrs. Zarkhin for making all of those across the oceans arrangements.

Following the film Rabbi Lazar addressed the full room of guests.

As having received the Avodas Hakodesh tribute, Rabbi Lazar traced the origin of the award's name to the ולבני קהת לא פסוק of נתן, כי עבודת הקדוש עליהם, בכתף "ישאו."

There the תורה instructs that no wagons are to be given to the קהת family as their job is to carry the ארון which holds the תורה. For that sacred task, בכתף ישאו, the ארון must be carried upon their shoulders.

Rabbi Lazar told the story of five years ago, when after being hired, he met a Cheder Rebbe. "What will the Cheder be like now that you are here? What can we expect?" the Rebbe asked. Rabbi Lazar responded that two things were certain. The Rebbe would work hard and would have fun doing so. Those two guarantees, Rabbi Lazar explained in his speech, were not just chosen by chance. They represent what he sees as the foundation of Chinuch throughout the ages.

Due to the holiness and loftiness of

An Evening in a Class of It's Own

the תורה, the ארון had to be carried. Torah students and by extension their Rebbeim, Moros and Staff are too precious to be bounced around in the wagon we call life. They must be handled with care. Rabbi Lazar relayed that he tried to do his utmost to support the Cheder staff during his tenure.

בכתף ישאו, according to the גמ' in ערכין, also teaches us the requirement for the לויים to sing. Their עבודה must be done בשמחה; Chinuch in 2018 is no different. The excitement, the רוח and the enthusiasm that now is synonymous with the Cheder culture will hopefully allow Rabbi Lazar's work to be felt at the Cheder in the months and years ahead.

Our dean carefully thanked so many of the groups of people who helped him make the Cheder the success it is, and wished individual ברכות to each group. Among those included were, his partners, the Cheder parent body, the dedicated Rebbeim, Moros, teachers and assistants, the administrative team, Mrs. Kaplan and Mrs. Goldfarb and their assistants, the Board of Trustees, led by the dedicated Mr. Zarkhin and his family, and last but not never least, the 'Why, Not the What' of Clifton Cheder, the precious talmidim and talmidos.

Rabbi Lazar thanked his siblings and paid tribute to his beloved parents זכרונם לברכה, who were his mentors in life in general and חינוך leadership in particular. Rabbi Lazar thanked his children and his עזר כנגדו, who together celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary that night at the BrightStone, along with all the guests!

It was a true honor, both to the Bucksteins and Rabbi Lazar that so many took the time and made the effort to attend the school's dinner. Cheder parents, grandparents, רבני העיר along with local neighbors and friends filled the beautiful hall. Particularly special was the presence of Harav and Rebbitzin Chaim Yehoshua Hoberman שיחיו, Rosh Yeshiva, Mesivta of Long Beach; Harav Sholom Kaminetsky שליט"א, Rosh Yeshiva, Talmudical Academy of Philadelphia; Rabbi Dovid Nojowitz, National Director of Torah Umesorah and Rabbi Yoel Kramer, veteran Mechanech and master mentor to Rabbi Lazar and so many of our talented Rebbeim.

A special surprise presentation was heartfully made by Rabbi Kagan and the Rebbeim. As a token of appreciation and to express the staff's gratitude, a stunning leather bound two volume set was created of the color copies of the five years of B'Chadrei Chadrim publications. These will be a keepsake for Rabbi Lazar and allow him to look back with pride both on the newsletters themselves and more importantly on all the comings and goings, and the special learning and programing, that took place during his years of leadership.

A very moving kumzitz with our musicians and singer, joined on stage by the talented way beyond his years Moshe Eliyahu Lazar capped off the evening. Those last few minutes of dancing will really be something to remember.

A special thank you is due to Mrs. Kaplan and team for all the lists, invitations and mailings. Special thanks to all the parents who assisted with mailings and phone calls. Special thanks to Mrs. Bina Zarkhin for all the many arrangements with the hall and caterer. Mrs. Nava Wilk deserves a special thank you for the beautiful flower arrangements and Rabbi and Mrs. Avrohom and Rivky Bergstein for the beautiful and professional journal whose link you can access below or directly from our website.

אחרון אחרון חביב, thanks to all those who participated in our dinner, either by way of donation, ad, attendance or all of the above. Through your generosity the Cheder can continue to do what it does best.
